Chapter 1

1 The Elder, to the beloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.

2 Dear friend, I wish for you to prosper and be healthy in every regard, just as your soul is prospering. 3 For it cheered me greatly when some brothers came, bearing witness to your truth, how you are walking in the truth. 4 I have no greater joy than this, hearing that my children are walking in the truth.

5 Dear friend, you do commendably whatever you labor at for the brothers, that is, for those travelers, who have testified before the church about your love. Whom you will do well to supply for their journeys in a manner worthy of God. 6 Because, you see, for the sake of the Name they have gone forth, accepting nothing from the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to take them who are like this under our roof, so we will become co-laborers with them in the truth. 9 Which I have written to your church; but Diotrephes, who wishes to be leader

NOTE about the text-critical apparatus in this document: Due to feedback I have received about apparatuses "cherry-picking" which minuscules and witnesses to cite, I have made the decision to eliminate this issue by using only one objective criteria: ALL witnesses dated before the 9th century are cited, and NO witnesses dated after the 8th century are cited. The result is clean, and very clear.

1 v. 3a txt γὰρ "for" A B C 048 syrph,h copbo\textit{miss} TR RP NA28 // omit κ Β vg itl\textit{cop}$\textit{sa,bo} // \textit{hiat}$ \textit{ψ}^{74} 0251. The ECM editors consider the readings with and without γάρ to be of equal weight. The word γάρ here connects the idea in verse 2, that Gaius’ soul is prospering, connects that with the report in verse 3 that John has received, that Gaius is walking in the truth.

2 v. 3b See BAGD in nr. 5, that after words of saying, like the word "testify" is here, καθώς means "how, that." (After all, it is a contraction of κατά ως.)

3 v. 5a txt ἔργαζη (2d sg aer mid subj) N B C TR RP NA28 // ἔργαζῃ (2nd sg pres mid ind) A // ---<-- 048 vg itl\textit{cop}$\textit{hiat}\textit{ψ}^{74} 0251. It is very likely that the continuous aspect reading ἔργαζῃ is an assimilation to the continuous aspect (pres) of ποιεῖ.

4 v. 5c txt εἰς τοὺς ξένους TR RP // τοῦτο ξένους N A B C 048 vg itl\textit{cop}$\textit{sa,bo} syrph,h NA28 // \textit{hiat}\textit{ψ}^{74} 0251. (A few Gk mss read ξένους instead of ξένους, and the Latin & Syriac witnesses are not useful as to the Greek case inflection thereof.) The reading with τοῦτο is the most difficult one. In fact, the whole verse 5 is the most difficult verse in 3 John to translate. For some translators have had difficulty with the fact that there are two verbs in the verse, ποιεῖ and ἔργαζη. Indeed, some copyists conformed the subjunctive of ἔργαζη to the present indicative of ποιεῖς. I get the impression that the term "the brothers" refers to one set of known traveling brothers. And not to "the brethren" generally, nor to the congregation in Gaius’ church.

5 v. 5d Classically the word "stranger" meant "alien, traveler, sojourner." Both Zeus, the God of the Greeks, and Yahweh, the God of the Jews, warn us to be sure to be hospitable to "strangers." This use here of strangers probably means someone that Gaius did not previously know. Still, most Greek speakers would be aware of the classical connotation of the word.

6 v. 7c txt ἑδυναικόν N A B C 048 itl\textit{syrh}ms copbo arm NA28 // ἑθνῶν vg syrph,h\textit{ms} copsa,bo\textit{ms} TR RP // \textit{hiat}\textit{ψ}^{74} 0251.

7 v. 7d Regarding this about Gentiles, see Matthew 10:5–10. See also Genesis 14:22,23.

8 v. 8b txt ὑπολαμβάνειν N A B C* NA28 // ἀπολαμβάνειν C2 TR RP // ---<-- latt syr cop // unreadable 048 // \textit{hiat}\textit{ψ}^{74} 0251.

9 v. 9a txt τι τῇ "which to" N*3 A B copsa,bo arm NA28 // τῇ "to" C TR RP // αν τῇ "would have to" N* 048 vg syrph,h // \textit{hiat}\textit{ψ}^{74} 0251. The ECM editors consider the NA28 and RP readings to be of equal weight. The word τι is an indefinite pronoun, with many meanings, depending on context and construction. It is also used as a relative pronoun, which I believe it is here.
over them, does not welcome us.\textsuperscript{10} For which reason when I come, I will bring up the works that he has been doing, making frivolous charges against us with oppressive words. And not satisfied with this, neither does he welcome those brothers. And the ones that try to, he prevents, even throws them out of the church.

\textsuperscript{11}Dear friend, do not imitate the bad, but rather the good. Someone practicing the good is of God. Someone\textsuperscript{12} practicing the bad, has not seen God.

\textsuperscript{12}Demetrius is borne witness to by all, and by the truth itself. And we also bear witness, and you know\textsuperscript{13} that our testimony is true.

\textsuperscript{13}I had many things to write to you,\textsuperscript{14} but do not wish to write to you by paper and ink. \textsuperscript{14}Instead I hope to see you soon, and we will talk face to face.\textsuperscript{15}

\textsuperscript{15}Peace to you. The friends here greet you. Greet the friends\textsuperscript{17} there each by name.\textsuperscript{18}

\textsuperscript{10} This is the first example of the error of the idea of one leader who is over all the other leaders. This idea is contrary to the teachings of the apostles, who deliberately appointed multiple, co-equal pastors in each church. The apostles as well, were co-equal to each other. In fact, I think the primary purpose of this third epistle of John is to combat the arising error of Diotrephes, the error of the idea of one supreme leader. God has been against this idea throughout the whole Bible. Israel had multiple judges and prophets, but the people wanted a king. God warned them against that. Do a study of how leadership was structured in the New Testament. Start with these passages:

When they had ordained elders in each church, Acts 14:23.

Elders of the church in Ephesus, Acts 20:17

Ordain elders in every city, Titus 1:5

Let him call for the elders of the church, James 5:14.

1 Peter 5:1, 2, "The elders among you I exhort, overseers of the flock..." Here Peter equates elders, presbuteroi, with overseers, episkopoi "bishops."

Acts 20:28, (see 20:17, elders of the church of Ephesus, 20:28, Paul now calls them overseers, episkopoi, so Paul also equates presbuteroi with episkopoi.

Philippians 1:1, the church there has plural overseers.

Titus 1:5, 7 Paul says appoint elders...for an overseer is... Paul again equates an elder with an overseer.

We can say that the office of elder and the office of overseer are the same office. The overseers should naturally be somewhat elder, especially elder in the faith (1 Timothy 3:6, he must not be a recent convert) and one of their main functions is to both oversee and to visit; both meanings of episkopew.

Here in 3 John, there were some traveling brothers mentioned, who possibly had some supervisory function. That would make them, taking from the lists of offices and/or gifts, one of the following: apostles, prophets, or teachers.

\textsuperscript{11} Or, "does not approve of us." Also in v. 10 in reference to "the brothers."

\textsuperscript{12} txt omit Ν Α Β Σ 048 vg itd syrph,\textsuperscript{h}mss cop\textsuperscript{sa},bo\textsuperscript{mss} RP NA28 // δελφοί TR RP // NA28<-->TR it\textsuperscript{d} // hiat \textsuperscript{Ψ} 0251.

\textsuperscript{13} txt οἶδας "you know-singular" Ν Α Β Σ 048 vg itd syr\textsuperscript{phh}mss cop\textsuperscript{sa},bo\textsuperscript{mss} eth arm NA28 // L. 1: οἶδατε "you know-plural" vg\textsuperscript{mm}s syr\textsuperscript{phhm}s, TR RP // οἴδαμεν "we know" cop\textsuperscript{bo}mss // hiat \textsuperscript{Ψ} 0251.

\textsuperscript{14} Instead some have been suspicious of how the phrase οἴδαμεν is in this verse twice in some form. If the Byzantine text is right, it would be less redundant, and read as follows: "I had many things to write, but to YOU I do not wish to write by paper and ink." In other words, "you are too special, I would rather see you face to face." Cf. 2 John 12, which has no such redundancy. Yet perhaps that comparison is the very thing that caused some scribes to unconsciously or consciously be averse to the redundancy. The fact that the reading with οἴδαμεν comes in two different word sequences, also makes it somewhat suspect.

\textsuperscript{15} The Westcott & Hort and the ECM GNT editions assign a verse number 15 at this point. This makes a lot of sense. But it has resulted in the situation that some translations have a verse 15 and some do not. The TR, the Robinson-Pierpont, and the NA28 editions do not have a v. 15, but continue the same text as that v. 15, but only as a longer v. 14. I do have a v. 15, because the ECM edition is the most current state of the Greek New Testament.
